

COVID-19 FAQ for KUAC's Continuation Plan

Will you continue to broadcast KUAC FM and TV?

Yes, we are here for you, striving to keep you connected to vital information and also offer diversions such as beautiful music and entertaining, educational options.

What are you doing to protect your staff?

1. Wearing gloves and increasing cleaning protocol in the FM studio and TV master control
2. No more than one person in the FM studio at a time
3. Suspending in-person interviews in the Production Control Room
4. Suspending the KUAC News-Miner Newscast at 12:30
5. Offices closed to guests
6. Utilizing online meeting platforms whenever necessary
7. Suspend volunteer duties

What happens if essential KUAC staff become ill?

KUAC TV would utilize more live PBS satellite feeds and rely more heavily on automation capabilities. This would result in changes to our regularly scheduled programming, specifically on KUAC 9.1. Normal programming should continue on PBS Kids, Create, WORLD, FNX and UATV.

KUAC FM would continue operations remotely, adjusting programming as necessary. Although challenging, KUAC would continue to use our current FM staff to continue bringing you up-to-date announcements and programs. The usual "studio quality" may not be possible for all local announcing. Enriching, educating and informing is KUAC's mission and we are committed to this. In these times of needing to physically socially distance from each other, it's important to feel connected through your public broadcasting station KUAC. Now more than ever.

Thank you for understanding.
