At KUAC, we create radio and television programming that is thought provoking, trustworthy and even life changing – connecting Alaska to the world and the world to Alaska.

For 50 years, KUAC TV has been providing thought provoking, inspiring programming that serves to educate every generation. Licensed to the University of Alaska, KUAC offers a hands on environment for students and has the reputation as a trusted source for news, information, entertainment and educational programming. KUAC offers 6 digital television channels and an audio-only (with digital signage promoting university activities/student events):

- 163 weekly hours of Native American/Alaska Native produced programs via FNX –First Nations Experience

KUAC’s local service has deep impact in Interior Alaska.

KUAC’s signal is, in many cases, the only television Alaskans in rural, native and bush communities receive.

With 3 translators crossing hundreds of miles, KUAC keeps Alaskans connected to the world. KUAC’s UATV features First Nations Experience (FNX) programming.

Key Local Services

KUAC provided over 43,800 hours of educational, instructional, informative and inspiring programming on five digital television channels in 2021:

- PBS (primary) content including more than 3,100 hours of children's educational programming per year.
- WORLD -- history, science, documentaries.
- CREATE – how-to, cooking, fabric arts, travel.
- UATV – FNX – First Nations Experience.
- PBS Kids – 24/7 (168 hours per week) award-winning children's educational programming.

KUAC also provides an audio-only channel broadcasting public radio programming on KUAC FM 89.9.

KUAC provides the uplink for the Alaska Rural Communications System – a programming stream for Alaskans in rural, native and bush communities with no access to over the air translator signals.

KUAC provides multimedia content through its website, social media via Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and YouTube channels where local content, programming highlights, events, community calendar and the ability to support are available.

KUAC provides regional calendar television announcements for Alaska non-profits to promote their events.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, KUAC cut back on live events, but was able to safely participate in creatively “rearranged events.”

- KUAC hosted two successful online fundraising events, the first in January with Martha Barnette of “A Way With Words,” and the second in August with Francis Lam of “Splendid Table.”
- We held a virtual KUAC poster event at a local gallery with no audience and KUAC mailing the posters. Our poster features Alaskan artists, provides access to art and artists for constituents, as well as income for the station through the fundraising event.
- We canceled our Spring Fundraiser planned for April but held a successful May One Match day with no volunteers on site due to safety precautions.
- We participated in the community Golden Days Reverse Parade in July. Molly of Denali and Kitt from KUAC Kids Club represented us in a “booth” as parade attendees drove by in the safety of their vehicles.
- Molly of Denali was present at 15 community events and staff handed out educational kits to the families in attendance.
- We participated in a GBH educational survey about Molly of Denali learning aspects and partnered with a local Head Start program for this 3-month activity. We also created video story times with Molly of Denali for Head Start.
- We took Molly to Denali National Park twice for Project Learning Tree educational videos that were shared with teachers and on our YouTube channel.

IN THE COMMUNITY

We continued to offer the WORLD Channel's At-Home Learning programs, which was invaluable to homes with unstable internet connections. We partnered with the local school district to share this information with teachers and families.

KUAC Kids Club engages kids and families to encourage exploration, learning, fun, and promote the love of public broadcasting. Every day, KUAC friends, families, neighbors and KUAC Kids celebrate birthday messages on TV and FM.

KUAC partners with the University of Alaska to provide college credit courses and hands-on learning opportunities for students at the University of Alaska Fairbanks in the Theatre and Film department.

KUAC features the work of an Alaska artist annually on the KUAC Poster and highlights the artist's work in a biography feature for air.

KUAC promotes local and visiting musicians and performers with a YouTube channel for Alaska Live TV.

KUAC participated in two filming sessions at Denali National Park with Project Learning Tree. Two educational videos about forestry science were created and shared with teachers and classrooms connected to Project Learning Tree and they were shared on KUAC's YouTube channel.

A KUAC staffer participated in an advisory panel with GBH to seek National Science Foundation funding for a Molly of Denali project.

Normally, KUAC utilizes hundreds of volunteer hours from groups, organizations and individuals for the annual poster signing, Fall Fundraiser, Spring Fundraiser, and for on air operations. While we had to curtail this, we did have hundreds of volunteers record messages from afar that we were able to use on air.

Inspired by and for Community

KUAC enjoys a very special relationship with its community. Donors, viewers, listeners, sponsors, underwriters and friends support the programming and services. While the pandemic restricted on-site events, we offered alternative ways to volunteer, such as phoning in endorsements to be played on air.

38th Annual KUAC Poster

For 38 years, KUAC has honored Alaskan artists and the unique culture that is part of Alaska. This year's poster was "Whaling Celebration" by the late Ron Senungetuk. The poster continues to be a popular way to engage Alaska's artists and the KUAC community in the appreciation of art in Alaska and support the mission of public broadcasting in the Interior.

"Educating every generation"

KUAC KIDS Club - In 2021, KUAC continued to grow the KIDS Club membership to 364 Interior Alaska children. While events were curtailed, we continued daily FM and TV birthday spots, mailings and 11 hours a day (weekdays) of quality, fun and safe children's educational programming on KUAC 9.1 and 24 hours a day on KUAC 9.5.

FNX - illustrates the healthy, positive, and real lives and cultures of Native American and indigenous people around the world showcasing TV series, documentaries, short films, PSAs, and films.

Alaska Live TV & More!

Reach in the Community:

In 2021, KUAC's Alaska Live radio program was cut back due to the pandemic but we were able to offer the Music in the Garden series over the summer and broadcast past episodes on KUAC TV. We partnered with the Fairbanks Symphony Orchestra to air their concerts on TV and also aired a TV holiday special by Dark Winter Nights, a local storytelling production organization.

Partnerships:

Fairbanks Concert Association
Opera Fairbanks
Fairbanks Symphony
Fairbanks Shakespeare Theatre

Design Alaska (financial support)
Dark Winter Nights

“Alaska Live brings Alaskan musicians into the KUAC studio and broadcasts their performances live. It gives local musicians exposure to the community that they otherwise would not receive. Our community has a lot of musical talent and Alaska Live is a great venue for giving that talent more exposure.”

- Jack Wilbur, Design Alaska

Impact and Community Feedback:

Pre-pandemic, we featured musicians and performers from all walks of life. From local high school students, Fairbanks Shakespeare Theatre, and the US Army Alaska Band, to national, international (Young Dubliners) and NPR favorites.

In the past, we've heard from viewers that these performances have inspired some to dust off their old instruments or that they have been introduced to a new genre they hadn't considered before.

Evaluating Outcomes, Measuring Impact

“We love KUAC because of quality reporting at the local, state and national level. We so enjoy the programming and are grateful to KUAC’s commitment to our community. Thanks!”

-Amanda & Michael Angaiak, Fairbanks, Alaska

Through our partnerships in the community – with individuals, businesses, and mission-related organizations - KUAC provides programs that educate, inform, and inspire Alaskans to take action.

Whether that action is to make an informed decision, explore a new idea, or create, KUAC has been there for over 50 years connecting Alaska to the world and the world to Alaska.

KUAC gives voice to ideas that result in a larger discussion and a better understanding of our world.

We tell stories that would otherwise go untold.
We bring awareness to issues that would otherwise go overlooked.
We present performances that would otherwise be inaccessible.
We educate every generation.
